Group Hopes to Prevent Nuclear Blast

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental groups pinned their hopes today on a new court appeal after President Nixon gave a go-ahead Wednesday to a huge underground nuclear blast at a North Pacific island.

A three-judge panel heard an appeal from environmental groups about two hours after the Atomic Energy Commission announced the administration decision. The U.S. Appeals Court indicated it would decide quickly whether it should grant a stay to allow time for consideration of a permanent injunction against the test.

Meanwhile, Canada's foreign minister contacted Secretary of State William P. Rogers to express his country's "disquiet" over Nixon's decision.

Both Canada and Japan have opposed the plan to explode a five-megaton atomic warhead, designed for the Spartan anti-ballistic missile, some 6,000 feet beneath Amchitka Island, in the Aleutian Islands chain of Alaska.

Both nations said they fear such a blast might cause environmental damage, including leaks of radiation that could spread in ocean waters across international boundaries.

Seven environment groups headed by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility, also fearing environmental hazards, had sought a court injunction to bar the test.

Last Sept. 22, Congress voted to bar the Amchitka test code-named "Cannikin," until at least mid-1972, unless the President personally authorized it.

On Wednesday, Nixon did just that, and AEC chairman James R. Schlesinger announced, "We have now received the requisite authority to go ahead including detonation."

The AEC did not announce a date for the test, but Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, said Wednesday it was scheduled for Nov. 4; Schlesinger said only that the preparations were to be completed before then.

In Wednesday's news conference, Schlesinger said there was a "virtual zero likelihood of any damage" from the Cannikin test. He said its shock would not even be felt in the nearest large community, Anchorage, Alaska, some 1,400 miles away.

Draft May Ignore Guard and Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft-eligible 19-year-olds will be given the lowest enlistment priority in the National Guard and Reserves, the Pentagon has announced.

Under the new plan, qualified men 20 years and older, women and youths aged 17 and 18 will be enlisted without regard to Guard or Reserve waiting lists, Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, deputy assistant secretary of defense, told a news conference Wednesday.

During the height of the Vietnam war, the backlog of men waiting to enlist in the Guard and escape the draft totaled more than 100,000 men. Most of the men signed up on waiting lists, Marrs said, were young whites.

The lowering of priority of draft-eligible 19-year-olds is to help the reserves recruit blacks and other minority-group members, Marrs said.

Bayh's Wife Doing Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh, the Indiana Democrat who withdrew from the race for his party's presidential nomination due to the illness of his wife, says she's "coming along very well."

Marvella Bayh was operated on for cancer of the breast and has been released from the hospital, Bayh said Wednesday that she now is "up and around."

"We've got a battle ahead on our hands but it's one we intend to win," the senator added.

Maine Voters Have Chance at Income Tax

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — The voters of Maine will face a unique question next Tuesday—the chance to repeal the state's income tax, implemented only two years ago.

It is the first time in the nation voters have had a chance to repeal an income tax already being collected, according to the Council of State Governments.

The tax on personal income and corporate profits passed by just one vote in both the House and Senate in 1969. It has been attacked ever since by a citizens group which succeeded in bringing the issue to referendum.

The Committee to Repeal the State Income Tax contends the 1969 law placed an unnecessary burden atop Maine's 5 per cent sales tax and state levies on gasoline, liquor and cigarettes.

The repeal group also predicts the income tax will be increased if it is not abolished. The 1969 law imposed a 1 to 6 per cent tax on personal income and a 4 per cent levy on net corporate profit.

Another group, headed by the authors of the tax law, have been joined by Democratic Gov. Kenneth W. Curtis and leaders of the Republican-dominated legislature in warning that repeal of the income tax would cause increases in other taxes.

The protax group, Fight Against Income Tax Repeal—FAIR—say rapidly rising local property taxes would rise again, because $110 million in biennial school subsidies to municipalities could be a prime victim of a budget cut.

The last legislative session passed a resolution promising no increases in major taxes through 1972.

Your Memory Is Magic Lantern Portraying Happiness of Past

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the great magic lantern show.

The brain is its compact theater, and against the vast backdrop of the mind it endlessly portrays the unfolding past. The numbing horrors of before, the enchanting happinesses, live again.

Your own magic lantern show has a lot of scenes in it if you can look back and remember when—

It was the height of young American male wit to holler at a passing pretty girl, "Hi there, dreamboat"—and then, when she turned around, to tell him, "Not you, shipwreck!"

A fellow felt something was missing all day if he didn't have biscuits for breakfast. Homemade? What other kind was there?

If you needed something fixed around the house, all you had to do was tell one of the kids to run and fetch the hired man. Every neighborhood seemed to have one of these jacks-of-all-trades handy, and you could always get him in an emergency.

Only the town banker's time was so important that he made an appointment to get his hair cut. Everybody else just sat around the barber shop gossiping until it was his turn to climb into the chair.

After a boy got so he could whistle and spit between his Senate test today despite a warning they might be jeopardizing President Nixon's forthcoming visit to Peking.

By a vote of 43 to 40, they stripped from the $3.2-billion foreign aid bill a provision repealing the 1965 resolution authorizing presidential action to protect the Nationalist Chinese island from a possible Communist Chinese attack.

To repeal the resolution at this time, Sen. William E. Brock III, R-Tenn., contended, would be "enticing" Communist China to attempt a takeover.

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., declared that failure to repeal it "could probably even hinder the President when he sets out on that very difficult journey to Peking."

The action came after Dr. Henry Kissinger was quoted as saying President Nixon will have to veto the aid bill unless restrictions on administration policies in Indochina are removed.

Sens. James I. Buckley, Con-R-N.Y., and Peter Dominick, R-Colo., are pressing the amendments with what appears to be the tacit support of the Nixon administration.

Buckley would eliminate $100 million in the aid bill for the U.N. development program and $1.5 million for a world food program. Asked if he had administration backing, the New York Conservative told a reporter, "Certainly the administration hasn't tried to dissuade me."

Dominick seeks to cut the 31 per cent U.S. share of U.N. costs to 25 per cent.

First, the Senate will consider an amendment by Sens. Buckley and William E. Brock III, R-Tenn., to strip a provision repealing the 1965 resolution authorizing presidential action to defend Formosa and the neighboring Pescadore Islands from a possible Communist Chinese attack.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-judge federal panel refused today to halt the government's plans to set off a five-megaton nuclear device underground on the island of Amchitka off the coast of Alaska.

Kissinger, who returned Tuesday from a six-day visit to Peking laying the ground work for Nixon, said "we have the time narrowed down to a certain number of weeks. We will formalize it and announce it" soon.

Kissinger said his advance work accomplished what he set out to do, "to make concrete arrangements for the President's visit." But, he added, another preparatory team will be sent before Nixon leaves.

Kissinger said he would not go with that advance party because the remaining work is technical and he would be of no real help.

This last advance team will be implementing agreements Kissinger reached in principle with Chinese Prime Minister

Two persons were killed and another wounded early today in what officers said was an apparent murder-suicide.

Authorities identified the dead as Debra Stryker, 31, and Jimmy McGoogan, 25, both of El Dorado.

Police said Frank Cathey, 35, of El Dorado told them that McGoogan and the Stryker woman came to his apartment shortly after midnight. Officers quoted Cathey as saying McGoogan shot him in the left hand and then killed the woman.

Cathey then said McGoogan turned the .30 caliber rifle on himself.

Cathey was treated and released at an El Dorado hospital.

The investigation was continuing.

Less Than 10 Killed in War Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that seven Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the third week in succession that less than 10 were killed.

The level is the lowest in six years. The command's weekly casualty summary also reported 84 U.S. servicemen were wounded last week, equaling the wounded figure for the previous week.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,584 killed in action, 302,104 wounded, 9,860 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—135,010 killed in action, 292,615 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—17,000 killed.

Nixon Trip to Red China Scheduled Early Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will make his historic trip to mainland China sometime after the first of January with the exact date to be announced next month.

Setting the trip in 1972 does not mean delay in Nixon's schedule, according to Henry A. Kissinger, the President's national security adviser.

He told newsmen Wednesday "We are exactly on the schedule we set ourselves. It has not been delayed." He pointed out Nixon had said from the start the only limit on timing was May 1972.

Kissinger, who returned Tuesday from a six-day visit to Peking laying the ground work for Nixon, said "we have the time narrowed down to a certain number of weeks. We will formalize it and announce it" soon.

Kissinger said his advance work accomplished what he set out to do, "to make concrete arrangements for the President's visit." But, he added, another preparatory team will be sent before Nixon leaves.

Nixon Sees Victory for Second Phase

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon forecast victory today in what he described as a head-on confrontation with inflation in Phase 2 of his wage and price control program.

The President's recorded report led off a wage-price discussion by top administration officials, carried by closed-circuit television to businessmen in 26 cities. The National Association of Manufacturers sponsored the presentation.

Nixon said the 90-day wage-price freeze due to end Nov. 13 has been "extraordinarily successful" and called on the businessmen to join with government in a post-freeze effort to revitalize the economy, "so that together we can achieve that great goal of full prosperity in a world of peace."

"We are confronting inflation head-on with this program," said Nixon.

"We have launched an offensive in this battle against inflation and we are going to win this battle."

"I say that with confidence because the American people and you—an important and influential segment of the American people—have shown such cooperation during Phase 1."

Chou en Lai, the presidential adviser said.

These, he explained, include communications, possible places of interest Nixon will see and facilities needed by the American party.

The only limitations will be those imposed by Chinese technical facilities, Kissinger said, adding that Peking officials appear to want Nixon's trip to be comfortable as possible.

Besides technical discussions, Kissinger said he talked with Chou on a more substantive level, and it was agreed nothing transpired since the American's earlier visit that would adversely affect the President's trip.

Memphis Has Relieved Two More Officers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Chief Inspector Jack Wallace announced Wednesday night two more Memphis policemen have been relieved of duty in the Elton Hayes case, bringing to 25 the number of officers furloughed.

The death while in police custody of Hayes, 17, a Negro, has been blamed for five days of racial disorder in Memphis last week. Police first said Hayes died from injuries received when a pickup truck being chased by officers crashed.

But two youths with Hayes at the time said they were beaten by officers, and a preliminary autopsy report indicated Hayes died from other than traffic injuries.

Connally Still a Democrat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally was appearing before a House committee when Rep. Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., asked if he still was a Democrat. Connally confirmed that he was.

In return, Annunzio then told Connally, the only Democrat in President Nixon's Cabinet:

"There are so many members of the other body (the Senate) who are seeking the presidency. I wanted to show there are others in the party, not members of the other body, who are fully capable of handling the responsibilities of the presidency."

Vietnamese Free 618 Prisoners

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government today announced its biggest POW release of the Vietnam war, raising cautious hopes that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong would reciprocate.

The Defense Ministry said 618 "repentant" Viet Cong will be freed outright. It said another 2,320 are being accepted into the government's "open arms" program for a brief period of political indoctrination after which they can return to their villages or work for the government in such fields as propaganda, psychological warfare and intelligence gathering.

A communique said the prisoners were being granted amnesty to mark the inauguration Sunday of President Nguyen Van Thieu and South Vietnam's independence day anniversary on Monday.

Sources at the presidential palace said earlier that Thieu would make a new appeal for peace on Monday. Some reports said this would be a new initiative, while other sources indicated it would contain a renewal of earlier calls for an immediate cease-fire as the first step toward a settlement.

The South Vietnamese hold about 36,000 prisoners of war, a little more than 8,000 of them North Vietnamese. The U.S. Defense Department lists 462 known American prisoners of war—378 in North Vietnam, 79 in South Vietnam, three in Laos and two in China. Another 1,176 Americans are listed as missing in action.

Hopes for prisoner exchanges were given impetus three weeks ago when the Viet Cong released the first American they have set free in nearly two years, Sgt. John C. Sexton Jr., of Warren, Mich. The Viet Cong indicated they would welcome reciprocal action, and three days later South Vietnam freed a North Vietnamese.

The Chicago Tribune reported today that some Republican senators say they have been told by officials of the Nixon administration that Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver had been alerted to handle up to 200 returning U.S. POWs soon. The White House, the Pentagon and the hospital all denied that any such alert had been issued.

The Saigon Defense Ministry said 442 of the prisoners to be released Sunday are "in good health" while 176 are disabled.

Ceremonies Scheduled for 3:30 p.m.

This city plays host Thursday to visiting officials of the Kroger Co., Governor Dale Bumpers other guests who will gather to help dedicate two important industries late this afternoon.

The program got started at 1 p.m. when visitors were taken on guided tours of Corn Belt Feed Mill and Hope Foods, Inc. The Governor's plane was scheduled to arrive at 3 p.m. and the group will go directly to the Hope Foods, Inc. chicken processing plant for ribbon cutting ceremonies at 3:30 p.m.

The party will then be conducted back to the Municipal Airport for the dedication of Corn Belt Feed Mill at 4 p.m. There will be introduction of out-of-town guests, remarks by Kroger officials and then Governor Bumpers will make the dedicatory address. The program is scheduled to end around 5:30 p.m. Thursday night visiting dignitaries will be guests at a dinner at Hope Country Club.

Municipal Airport is being used for the dedication because of the limited parking facilities at the nearby Feed Mill and in event of inclement weather the spacious hangar could be used.

Both industries are very important to this region. Hope Foods, Inc. processes laying hens which heretofore had to be shipped elsewhere. The plant, owned and operated by Tom Duncan and Hillman Koen, also employs from 65 to 85 persons.

Corn Belt Feed Mill, one of the largest in the world, not only provides feed for chicken producers in this area but also provides a market for various grains used in the feed and produced on local farms. It is part of the vast chicken industry complex of the Kroger Company in Hempstead County.

WASHINGTON (AP) President Tito of Yugoslavia officially begins his six-day visit to the United States today with a full ceremonial greeting by President Nixon on the White House lawn.

Tito, the head of the maverick Communist country, landed Wednesday at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington and spent the night at Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland.

After the official arrival, Tito will huddle privately with Nixon for his first meeting. The Middle East crisis is expected to rank high on their topics of discussion.

Tito was greeted at the airport by U.S. Protocol Chief Emil Mosbacher, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Richard Davies and Malcolm Toon, new U.S. ambassador to Belgrade.

Red China Thanks Its Supporters

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China thanked its supporters today for helping it win admission to the United Nations but gave no indication when it would send its first delegation to New York.

An editorial in the Peking People's Daily, the Communist party's official newspaper, said the U.N. vote reflected an international trend for friendship with China and "the resistance and opposition of ever more countries to the truculent acts of U.S. imperialism in imposing its will on others."

"It is getting more difficult for one or two superpowers to manipulate and monopolize the United Nations," it added without referring to the Soviet Union by name.

Meanwhile, the Japanese government, under fire for cosponsoring Washington's unsuccessful 1970 resolutions in the United Nations, defeated a second no-confidence motion in Parliament today against Foreign Minister Takeo Fukuda.

Both motions were submitted by opposition parties which claimed the defeat of the U.S. resolution caused Japan to lose face and harmed efforts to improve relations with the mainland government.

The second no-confidence motion was voted down 132 to 106 in the Diet's upper house. A similar motion was defeated in the lower house Wednesday 274-169.

Wife Slayer to Be Free After 12 Yrs.

CHINO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Bernard Finch—described by one prison official as "probably better read than most practicing doctors"—becomes a free man Friday after 12 years behind bars. He had been convicted of murder in the death of his socialist wife.

"He has been studying medical books and journals for six to eight hours a day," said Earl Muff, administrative assistant at Chino Institution for Men.

Finch was granted parole more than a month early because he has found employment and a place to live, a State Department of Corrections spokesman reported.

Finch has asked prison officials not to disclose his plans to the public.

Finch, now 53, was a wealthy Los Angeles-area doctor who was arrested in 1969 after police found the body of his wife, Barbara, lying on a neighbor's lawn. She had been shot in the back and her skull was fractured.

Carole Tregoff, Finch's then 28-year-old titan-haired receptionist-girl friend, was arrested 10 days later and charged as a codefendant in the love-triangle murder.

Both were sentenced to life imprisonment after a jury convicted Finch of murder and

Catholic in an Appeal for Peace

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A Roman Catholic joined Northern Ireland's Cabinet for the first time Wednesday night with an appeal for peace. A few hours later, a police officer and a British soldier were killed and the army claimed at least six guerrillas shot in a gun battle.

Prime Minister Brian Faulkner appointed Dr. Gerard Newe, 64-year-old specialist in social work, as a minister of state in an attempt to reach out to the province's Catholic minority. "Crude window dressing," said a Catholic member of the provincial parliament.

Meantime, the toll of known deaths in the communal warfare rose to 139 in the past two years, including 31 British soldiers this year.

After an eight-hour, house-to-house gun fight in West Belfast during the night, military headquarters reported troops hit at least six guerrilla snipers. But the dead or wounded were dragged away into the darkness by their comrades, the army said.

Early today raiders ambushed a police car driving along the northern shore of Lough Neagh a few miles from Belfast.

A burst of automatic weapon fire riddled the car, police said, killing a 33-year-old sergeant. A constable with him was gravely wounded.

Shortly afterward a mine exploded under an army scout car near the border with the Irish Republic. A 22-year-old corporal died of his wounds.

The appointment of Newe brought a Catholic into Northern Ireland's government for the first time since the province was separated from the rest of Ireland 50 years ago. Faulkner said his job would be to "consider how best to establish and maintain contact with the various elements of the Catholic community."

The province's Roman Catholic minority has been demanding proportional representation in the government, which would give the Catholics about a third of the Cabinet posts.

Those Cubans Don't Want to Go Home

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The State Department was still trying today to find a way to get 22 Cubans to go back home.

Nineteen of the Cubans are sugar cane technicians who flew here Tuesday in hopes of attending the 14th Congress of the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologists. The other three are crew members of the Russian-built twin-engine turboprop used for the flight from Cuba.

The State Department said Cuban officials were advised Sept. 24 that no visas would be granted for the group.

"Cuba is the world's leading sugar cane producing country and one of the 46 member countries of that international association—the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologists. As such, it has the inalienable right to take part in all its activities and the right that it be guaranteed the possibility of doing so," the Cuban government said.

The State Department was trying to solve the problem through the Swiss and Czechoslovakian embassies, which represent Cuban interests in the United States. The United States has no direct diplomatic relations with Cuba.

A State Department spokesman said no legal hearing was anticipated because the Cubans "are not in the country." He explained that the 22 have not been admitted officially through customs.

They were being kept in a hotel. The Cubans were allowed to move freely on the balconies adjoining their motel rooms but were allowed no telephone calls or visitors. Much of the time was spent in visiting and photographing each other and watching television.

Challenges Critics of Greece Pact

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Charging that Greece has become "a favorite whipping boy" of some Americans, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has challenged critics of the Athens dictatorship to demand democracy in nations like Communist China, too.

But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, countered that the United States is not supplying military assistance to Greece, so the situation is not parallel.

The Senate is considering legislation to cut off U.S. military aid to Greece as a rebuke to the authoritarian government there, unless President Nixon rules continued assistance to be in the overriding interest of U.S. security. The State Department has expressed disappointment at the slow pace of steps toward representative rule in Greece.

Agnew said in Athens he found a spirit of patriotism and unity in Greece, the nation of his forebears, during the visit that ended Oct. 23. He complimented the government for progress in health, education, welfare and development in rural Greece. He gave no public indication of dissatisfaction with the Athens government or its undisclosed timetable for representative rule.

"Certainly, we've all indicated the hope that Greece will move back toward a democratic form of government," Agnew said in his office across the street from the White House. He said Prime Minister George Papadopoulos has declared that to be his objective.

Fulbright, interviewed at the Capitol, said the vice president's statements about Greece "don't seem to me to be consistent with what I understand to be the policy of the government, with regard to pressure for democratic government."

Agnew said it seems unusual that "here we are focusing in on the details of the internal workings of another government, one of our most important allies in NATO ... and yet we hear none of these exploratory urgings being directed to anybody else...."

Agnew said: "It just seems to me that Greece is a favorite whipping boy of certain opinion in this country."

Youth of 20 Qualifies as Candidate

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A group of young lobbyists has won its battle with St. Paul City Hall—their Halloween activities will not be restricted to Sunday afternoon.

Metropolitan officials last week designated 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. as the "official" trick-or-treat time. But children began deluging the mayor's office with letters of protest.

The new push was signalled by an order from Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard requiring reserve authorities "to actively recruit qualified individuals of all races, creeds and ethnic groups," so that "all units shall generally reflect the character of the population in the unit's recruiting area."

Although all reserve organizations are affected, the main burden falls on the Army and Air National Guard which account for half the nation's 980,000-man ready reserve forces.

The record shows that the percentage of blacks in the guard actually has dropped since the Johnson administration pressed for increased representation of Negroes in guard ranks.

In February 1965, amid one of the earliest drives to sign up more blacks, there were only 5,780 Negro guardsmen, or 1.3 per cent of the 442,410 total.

The most recent rundown, as of last June 30, lists 5,982 black guardsmen, or 1.22 per cent of the 488,338 men on the rolls at the time, despite continued recruitment efforts under both the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

Those Cubans Don't Want to Go Home

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The State Department was still trying today to find a way to get 22 Cubans to go back home.

Nineteen of the Cubans are sugar cane technicians who flew here Tuesday in hopes of attending the 14th Congress of the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologists. The other three are crew members of the Russian-built twin-engine turboprop used for the flight from Cuba.

The State Department said Cuban officials were advised Sept. 24 that no visas would be granted for the group.

"Cuba is the world's leading sugar cane producing country and one of the 46 member countries of that international association—the International Society of Sugar Cane Technologists. As such, it has the inalienable right to take part in all its activities and the right that it be guaranteed the possibility of doing so," the Cuban government said.

The State Department was trying to solve the problem through the Swiss and Czechoslovakian embassies, which represent Cuban interests in the United States. The United States has no direct diplomatic relations with Cuba.

A State Department spokesman said no legal hearing was anticipated because the Cubans "are not in the country." He explained that the 22 have not been admitted officially through customs.

They were being kept in a hotel. The Cubans were allowed to move freely on the balconies adjoining their motel rooms but were allowed no telephone calls or visitors. Much of the time was spent in visiting and photographing each other and watching television.

Blount Quits P.O., to Run for Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winston M. "Red" Blount, head of the U.S. Postal Service, will resign Friday to campaign for the U.S. Senate in Alabama, sources report.

Spokesmen for the 50-year-old Blount neither confirm or deny the report which has been circulating in Washington for months.

However, sources close to Blount said the postal chief hoped to announce his resignation at the White House with President Nixon at his side. Nixon appointed Blount postmaster general in January, 1969.

The Washington political consulting firm of Allison, Freleaven and Rietz Inc. has been retained to help the "Draft Blount" Committee run the postal chief's campaign, sources added.

Mystified How Everglade Fish Survived

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A state biologist says he is "totally mystified" by the vast numbers of fish which survived the drought and fires that turned the Everglades into a desert of cracked mud last spring.

"I really just can't explain it," said Walter Dineen of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

"We found scads of small bass and other fish in one big pond. A few months ago, I pushed an air boat over eight miles of dry trails to that pond and there was absolutely no standing water there at all," he said.

The seven-month drought which dried up some of the world's most famous bass fishing areas last winter and spring may prove a boon to fishermen in the next year or two, Dineen said.

"There has been a population explosion in forage fish (small fish) on which the gamefish feed, largely because the predator population has been reduced," he said. "This will mean an overabundance of food for young bass, which will increase their growth rate."

In the past few months, rainfall has returned a near normal foot or so of water to the 3 million acres of sawgrass that form the Everglades, he said.

Dee Coffee, Commander of Leslie Huddleston Post 12 of the American Legion, and Mrs. Joe Jones, Unit 12 Auxiliary President, honored the local Veteran's Monday, October 25, by placing poppy made wreaths at the memorial marker on the courthouse lawn, as Legionnaire, Gene Allen, stood by with camera for picture.

The wreath was presented to the Legion by Spates Florist and the Poppy Spray was furnished by the Auxiliary.

FISH TALK

"BASS IN THE PAN"

Bass are excellent food fish but preparation must begin the minute fish is caught. Either keep them alive in refrigerator or put them in a portable refrigerator. If in the latter, do not place them in melting ice water. After fishing, clean bass immediately. Larger bass of 1 1/2 pounds or more may be filleted. Avoid using water as much as possible in cleaning.

To fillet bass — (a) Cut on dotted lines. (b) Peel back skin as shown. Repeat on opposite side. (c) Cut fillet close to bone, one from each side.

THE GENERATION RAP

CERTAIN SUBJECTS "GROWIN' A BEARD" WITH TEEN COLUMNIST

Dear Sue and Helen:

My parents have finally come around to long hair for guys. We even talked Dad into sideburns and an electric comb. He looks great. Of course his hair is still short compared to mine.

Sue here comes a time bomb! We're going south for Christmas, and we'll stop to visit my grandmother. Dad says all the men in the family must have haircuts before we leave. He showed me pictures of him when he was young and announced that this is the way his mother expects us to look.

Migosh, I'll be scalped! Can you help save us a mass shearing? — L.B.R. (MALE) SUE'S VIEWS

Dear L.B.R. (Male): Is that short for "Little Bald Ridinghood, Male?"

Maybe you won't be, if you ask your dad one question: "Are you really AFRAID of Grandma, Pop?" — SUE

NOTE TO READERS: Who, besides me, wants a vacation from oldies like hair, sex and "my parents don't understand me!"? I think such subjects are growin' a beard—they've been hassled so long they need a rest. If you want extra snap in GENERATION RAP, please, readers, send us some new-type problems. K? Thanx.

P.S. No offense, L.B.R.—your letter wasn't run-of-the-barberchair hair trouble.

HELEN'S TURN

(GLOSSARY FOR ADULT READERS: "Growin' a beard" means getting old; "K" is short for Okay. Or did you already know?) — H.

Dear L:

Grandmothers, have weathered many changes, are often not as reactionary as grown children assume them to be. Sometimes they aren't as uptight as the middle generation. Yours is no doubt surrounded by hairy teenagers and even their parents, for southern styles are no different than any others these days.

Why not send Grandma your pictures to soften her up for the real thing? I think she'll adjust. — HELEN

P.S. Second the motion on "different-type" letters. Here's an example: Dear Bottels:

This is too good to keep. My brother, who enjoys conning the Establishment, decided to grow marijuana plants in a weed field near our house. He wasn't going into business. He just did it to see if it's as easy as people say to grow your own and not get caught.

It was... until our littest brother, who's not even out of training pants, got a big crush on our next-door neighbor and started bringing her bouquets. He went through our garden in a hurry, and then beamed in on the wild flowers in the field.

You guessed it, our neighbor turns up with a nice bouquet of Cannabis sativa and she doesn't even know she's "holding" pot in the raw. Thank goodness she threw it away next day.

You'd better believe my big brother dug a hole and buried those illegal plants fast. The field is now back to weeds, not "weed."

There's some use for little brothers after all. Right? — RELIEVED ENOUGH TO LAUGH

Dear R: ... Especially little brothers who lack "pot-ty training." — H. AND S.

Dear Sue: Could you please tell us again where teenagers can write to get an overseas pen pal? — STUDENTS

Write to World Pen Pals, World Affairs Center, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn., 55455. Print your name, age, sex and address, and send 50 cents for each pen pal requested. Pen friends are provided for boys and girls, ages 12-19. Good luck! — SUE

Sterilized Soil Can Be Produced

Nearly everyone that raises house plants knows the value of a sterilized soil but usually the only way a homeowner can get a sterilized soil is to buy it.

Robert Vandivere, Associate County Extension Agent, says there are several methods available to produce your own sterilized soil. Soil can be boiled, steamed, baked, or treated with chemicals. Any one of these methods will work and the homeowner should use the method most suited to his situation.

The baking method is perhaps the most convenient method for most people. Mix your soil as you want it for your plants and put it into coffee cans. To each one pound can, add one-half cup water and place in an oven at 200 degrees for 2 hours. Remove the soil from the oven and stir well to aerate it. Let it cool and then cover the can with the plastic lid.

Several cans of soil can be sterilized at one time using this method in a home oven. Once sealed, the cans may be stored until ready to be used later. Most soil amending ingredients, like peat moss, perlite, and vermiculite, have been sterilized so you can add these after your soil has been sterilized, thus cutting down on volume of material to be "cooked" in your oven.

Once sterilized, soil can be stored as long as you wish if the container is kept sealed. This makes it possible for the homeowner to sterilize a year's potting soil at one time.

Crochet Wraps Up Fashion

By JUDY LOVE

Here's a marvelous way to wrap fashion around your finger. Start with some good, dependable knitting worsted, pick a crochet hook and let your fashion fingers fly. In no time, you clever needleworkers will have a magnificent, open-work shawl—fashion's most glamorous cover-up this season.

This particular stole or shawl is luxuriously large. The long edge is 84 inches and each of the shorter edges of the triangle is 50 inches. Measuring down the center back it's 36 inches. You can swirl this stole comfortably around your shoulders twice if you wish.

The pattern also is an important part of its beauty. It is filet crochet—lovely open work with a handsome rose motif. Filet, by the way, designates lace or mesh with a square net.

Directions for this quick-to-crochet beauty are clear and easy. A chart is included to help you work the motif easily. You'll use Coats & Clark Red Heart knitting worsted (available most anywhere yarn is sold) and a size F crochet hook. The shawl is edged in lavish, long fringe that you also make, simply by following the easy directions.

To get instructions for this handsome, filet-crochet, triangular stole, just send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local paper, Radio City Station Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10021. Ask for Stitchin' Time leaflet S329. Include your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNAKS

DEAR JUDY: You've always been so helpful in giving hints on knitting and crocheting. Perhaps you have some advice for a lady who's a failure at washing her creations. When washing cardigans, for instance, shrinkage is always a problem... one side is always shorter than the other when it dries. Some words of wisdom, please. Thanks very much — R.B., San Francisco.

DEAR R.B.: Glad to have been helpful to you in the past and, yes, I do have some hints for you with those cardigans. When washing and blocking a cardigan, baste front closing together on both edges with yarn, never with thread. Thread has a tendency to cut wool yarn. Then wash your sweater in a mild soap powder, preferably a special kind sold for washing fine woolsens. Then block as directed. When dry, the front edge will be the same length and not stretched out of shape.

Also remember, while moisture does cause most of the shrinkage in a garment, it is also a fact that stretching a garment too much or too often while it is damp will also cause eventual shrinkage. Just be gentle with your knitted garments and they should wash beautifully. — JUDY

Battle of Desperation in Pro Golf

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There's a quietly desperate battle going on deep in the ranks of golf's touring pros.

It involves positions on the official money list—not the well-publicized fight for No. 1 between Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer—but the struggle for 60th place, the cutoff spot for determining exemptions for next year's tour.

The ones who don't make it and aren't otherwise qualified have to join the ranks of the Monday qualifiers, the scores and scores of players who must fight for a handful of spots on the Mondays preceding the start of each regular PGA event.

"That's probably the toughest thing we have to do out here, those Mondays," said Jimmy Jamieson, who made it last year and is in danger of losing his spot this season. Jamieson made his comment before teeing off today in the first round of the $135,000 Sahara Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

"Getting away from Mondays sure smooths out your putting stroke," said Bill Garrett, an exempt player this season but almost certain to drop back into the rabbit ranks next year. "You can go into a tournament with an entirely different frame of mind."

The make-up of the 144-man field for this event, one of the last five on the schedule this season and thus one of the last five chances the players have of securing their exemptions, is indicative.

Only five of the top 10 money winners are on hand, with the rest taking a break or competing abroad.

But of the 25 players grouped between Nos. 50 and 75 on the list, generally speaking the ones in the fight for the exemptions, all but one are playing. The only absentee from that list is No. 67, Jon Lotz. He tried to make it but failed to qualify.

A major turnover is certain. At least 18 of the top 60 from a year ago are in jeopardy.

Jim Colbert is the man in the hot seat, holding down the 60th position. He has $12,045 and it appears that it will take a minimum of $17,000 to make it.

Among some of the veterans who are in great danger, who would almost have to win a tournament to make it, are dapper Doug Sanders, former Masters champ Bob Gulyb, former Western Open titlist Hugh Royer and Hovie Johnson.

Tony Jacklin, Orville Moody and Al Geiberger also are almost certain to miss, but all former U.S. Open and PGA National champions hold lifetime exemptions.

Orioles Lose Key Man to Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Harry Dalton, given much of the credit for building Baltimore's American League dynasty, has accepted the task of lifting the California Angels out of the rubble of a disastrous season.

Dalton, 43, the Orioles' vice president in charge of player personnel since 1966, was given a five-year contract at undisclosed salary Wednesday to become the Angels' general manager and executive vice president.

The announcement was made by Bob Reynolds, Angels president and Gene Autry, board chairman. They reportedly began negotiating with Dalton at least a month before Dick Walsh was fired as the American League club's general manager a week ago.

Reynolds said Dalton is "used to winning" and hailed him as "one of the architects of the Orioles' success."

Dalton said in Baltimore he was "unhappy to leave the Orioles" but added, "I sincerely believe that we have a chance to make this (the Angels) one of the strongest franchises in the American League."

He is joining a team that started the 1971 season with high hopes and ended up a distant fourth in the AL West, torn by dissension and playing to sparse crowds. Manager Harold "Lefty" Phillips was fired two weeks before Walsh.

Dalton said it may be "three or four weeks" before he is ready to decide on Phillips' successor.

Leading candidates are believed to be Del Rhee, who managed the Angels' Salt Lake City farm club to the Pacific Coast League championship this year, and Baltimore coach Billy Hunter.

"I am very high on Billy Hunter's ability," Dalton said, "but any stories suggesting that he will be the manager are premature."

The name of Orioles Manager Earl Weaver also has been mentioned. Dalton said he considers Weaver "the best manager in the league," but added, "He's under contract to the Orioles and I would not think of trying to take him away."

Memphis and Phoenix Seek NFL Franchise

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, Illinois, reported Wednesday that Memphis and Phoenix, Ariz., may team up in an effort to secure a National Football League franchise for the two cities.

The NFL is expected to hold four teams during the next three years, and Memphis has had a campaign under way to obtain one of them. Seattle, Wash., and Tampa, Fla., also are reportedly under consideration for teams.

Rostenkowski, who served as the initial go-between for the Memphis and Phoenix groups, said he has been in touch with former Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, now a Washington lawyer, who contacted interests in Arizona.

Rostenkowski said it was felt there would be an advantage in Memphis and Phoenix joining forces to sell the NFL on twin cities franchises. The franchises are expected to be awarded in pairs.

Two Colleges Are Put on Probation

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — The University of California at Los Angeles and North Carolina Central University are under probation today, each for one year, for athletic recruiting irregularities.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association announced the probation Wednesday through its Council, meeting here in its fall sessions.

Both universities were reprimanded and censured but the probation, which will end Oct. 26, 1972, are without penalty. UCLA will defend its national championship in basketball. The action against UCLA involved James McAlister, a track and football star; Kermit Johnson and Eugene Jones, football players now competing for the Bruins, all from Pasadena, Calif.

As a result of the action, McAlister, a sophomore, is ineligible for athletic competition this year and thus will miss a year of varsity participation in football and track.

North Carolina Central, located at Durham, N. C., was placed on probation for the manner in which it went about negotiating Charles Foster of Gaffney, S. C., a track star.

Warren S. Brown, the NCAA's enforcement officer, said Foster would not lose any eligibility "because he was merely doing what was arranged for him."

Brown said the recruiting violations involving UCLA occurred in May and June of 1970 and that McAlister, Johnson and Jones took an ACT examination "from a special test administration" arranged by UCLA's former assistant athletic director instead of on a nationally administered test date.

Brown would not disclose the name of the athletic assistant but said he is not currently employed by the university.

Brown said McAlister's examination papers contained 63 erasures, 49 of which had been converted to the correct answers. The papers of the other two athletes also contained many erasures.

It was not determined during the NCAA investigations who made alterations on the examinations, Brown said.

Romanian Fights to Quarterfinals

WEMBLEY, England (AP) — Ilie Nastase, the fiery Romanian who led his country into the Challenge Round of the Davis Cup against the United States this year, meets No. 1 seed John Newcombe of Australia here today in the quarter-finals of the $50,000 Embassy Tennis Championships.

Nastase has more to gain from a victory than the $5,000 he will pick up if he fights through to take the final Saturday.

A victory would give him 30 points in the Pepsi Grand Prix, a $200,000 bonanza which ends in Buenos Aires Nov. 20.

The Romanian has amassed 123 points in events counting toward the Grand Prix and he holds second place, 55 points behind Stan Smith of Los Angeles, Calif.

Smith, who was second seed, can only watch his main rival from the sidelines after being knocked out in the first round.

The winner of the Grand Prix gets $25,000.

Former Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, now a Washington lawyer, who contacted interests in Arizona.

Rostenkowski said it was felt there would be an advantage in Memphis and Phoenix joining forces to sell the NFL on twin cities franchises. The franchises are expected to be awarded in pairs.

Power Replaces Speed in Pro Running Backs

NEW YORK (AP) — Power has apparently replaced speed as the prime asset for National Football League running backs, according to weekly statistics issued today.

Baltimore's hard-driving fullback, Norm Bulaich, tops the American Football Conference—and all of pro football—in rushing with 503 yards in just 77 carries, a 6.5 average.

Another power runner, Steve Owens of Detroit, tops the National Football Conference with 484 yards. The former Heisman Trophy winner from Oklahoma has carried the ball 106 times for a 4.6 average.

In fact, there's not a single speed merchant among the leaders in either conference.

Larry Csonka of Miami, Marv Hubbard of Oakland and Jim Kick of Miami trail Bulaich in the AFC, while Larry Brown of Washington and Ken Willard of San Francisco rank behind Owens in the NFC.

Dallas' Roger Staubach replaced Detroit's Greg Landry as the statistical passing leader in the NFC this week, while Len Dawson of Kansas City replaced Miami's Bob Griese in the AFC.

Rookie Bill Parks of San Diego paces the AFC in receiving with 29 catches, two more than Kansas City's Otis Taylor. In the NFC, Dick Gordon of Chicago leads with 28 receptions, even though he's had three different passers throwing at him—Jack Concannon, Kent Nix and Bobby Douglass.

Elsewhere on the charts, Miami's Garo Yepremian is the leading scorer in the league with 59 points, one ahead of Washington's Curt Knight, on 15 field goals and 13 extra points.

Jerrel Wilson of Kansas City tops NFL punters with a 48.3-yard average. Miami's Dick Anderson is the leading punt returner with a 17.5 average. Detroit's Ron Jessie is No. 1 on kickoff returns with a 39.6 average and Ken Ellis of Green Bay has six interceptions to lead that department.

Picks Hope to Defeat Camden

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — In Fort Smith, this is the "Week of Retaliation."

The score, 46-14, is posted throughout the Fort Smith Northside Athletic Department, a not so gentle reminder of the Grizzlies' loss to Little Rock Hall last year.

The top-ranked Grizzlies and the ninth-ranked Warriors meet Friday night at Little Rock.

The Grizzlies lead the AAAA race with a 4-0 record. Hall is 2-2 in conference play. This week there's a special incentive for the Northside seniors — they have not beaten Hall during their high school careers.

FS NORTHSIDE 17, LR HALL 7.

Two other nonconference games this week will have a great impact on the state rankings.

Third-ranked Little Rock Catholic plays seventh-ranked Little Rock Parkview and second-ranked Stuttgart meets fifth-ranked Forrest City.

Catholic, second in the AAAA conference, was idle last week. Parkview, one of three teams virtually tied for the top in AAA-West, scored an impressive 29-6 victory over Texarkana last week. The previous week, Parkview crushed Benton 31-6.

The Patriots are beginning to live up to preseason expectations but the extra week will help the Rockets.

LR CATHOLIC 15, LR PARKVIEW 14.

Stuttgart, which has reeled off seven straight victories since an opening loss to Northside, has the unenviable task of trying to shut down Robert Lee Steward. The Mustangs' ace has scored 19 touchdowns in six games.

However, Stuttgart has permitted only 26 points in its last seven games and can also score.

STUTT GART 20, FORREST CITY 14.

Last week's percentage was 810, raising the season's percentage to 733.

Here are other predictions involving AAAA, AAA and AA teams: LR Central 19, NLR Northeast 13; El Dorado 14, Texarkana 8; North Little Rock 20, Pine Bluff 17; LR McClellan 27, Blytheville 6; Conway 20, Helena 13; West Memphis 13, Jacksonville 7; Jonesboro 14, Marianna 7; Hot Springs 23, Fayetteville 7; Fort Smith Southside 15, Springdale 7; Van Buren 13, Bentonville 6; Rogers 20, Harrison 13; Reed Springs, Mo., 13, Huntsville 7; Batesville 19, Mountain Home 12; Siloam Springs 13, East Newton, Mo., 12; Alma 23, Lincoln 14; Nashville 7, Anna 6; Russellville 26, St. Annes 13; Newport 20, Pocahontas 8; Paragould 13, Osceola 7; Wilson Rivercrest 26, Hughes 20; Marked Tree 19, Trumann 8; Brinkley 13, Marvell 7 and DeWitt 20, Wynne 15.

Bobcats Travel to Camden, Practice Session Is Sloppy

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports writer

7AA title hopes are out of reach now, but the Hope Bobcats still have two games left on the schedule. And they'll have to play excellent to win them.

However things aren't looking too good, as the Bobcats had a sloppy Wednesday practice and will have to get some spirit and play mistakeless ball Friday night if they are to get another victory.

Hope travels to Camden and a rough game is expected with both teams trying to bounce back from losses last week—Hope losing to Magnolia, 19-12, and Camden getting clobbered by Ashdown, 33-7.

Senior Gordon Parham, a 160 pounder, leads the Panther offensive attack with his fine field general leadership. Parham also throws the pigskin real well, and he has two fine receivers in Rinnie Williams and Stan Perryman.

Williams is a 155 pound senior, while Perryman, also a senior, weighs 200 pounds and is an all-district candidate.

All three Camden backs—Joe Willis, Kenny Morris, and Thomas Willis have good speed and quickness. The largest of the trio is Joe Willis, a 208 pound

Hens Win a Battle, Lose Ground

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Delaware Blue Hens won a battle, but lost some ground in their fight to remain No. 1 in the college division football poll.

The Blue Hens, despite a convincing 47-8 victory over West Chester last weekend, had their top-ranked lead shaved to a mere 10 points over second-place McNeese State. The Cowboys from Louisiana, 17 points off the pace last a week ago, were idle Saturday.

The Associated Press' panel of sports writers and broadcasters gave Delaware 10 first-place votes and a total of 288 points to McNeese State's three and 278.

Akron, which whipped No. 8 Southern Illinois, moved from fourth to third with two No. 1 votes and 258 points. Southern Illinois dropped out of the blue ribbon group.

Eastern Michigan, No. 4 last week, dropped to No. 5 and North Dakota State, a recent upset victim of North Dakota, dipped from No. 5 to No. 6.

Tennessee State moved from No. 9 to No. 7 and Louisiana Tech went from 10th to eighth. Western Kentucky moved into the rankings as No. 9 and Tampa plunged from a tie for sixth to No. 10 after losing to Villanova 24-3.

The top Ten teams in The Associated Press college division football poll with first place votes, season records and total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc. basis:

senior fullback. Both of the others are also seniors with Morris slightly heavier.

Interior linemen include center Steve McGuire (165), guards Mark Mann (160) and Robert Smith (150), and tackles Paul Lindsey (203) and Joe McCaffery (183). Smith is a sophomore and McGuire is a junior.

Defensively, the Panthers have one of the smallest starting lineups in the league, weight-wise.

With the front eight linemen, not including the secondary starters, the Panthers only average out at a little over 166 pounds—but weight doesn't tell the whole story.

Camden's largest lineman is defensive right guard Kilburn Forbes, a 195 pound sophomore, with the smallest being right end Otis Hall, a junior 140 pounder.

Others include guard Ricky Griffith, end Kenny Morris, and Dennis Meadows and Chuck Pickett, both standup line men in the odd Camden defensive setup.

Linebackers Dean Jamerson and Tom Dedmond lead the defensive units. Jamerson is a 162 pound senior with plenty of experience and muscle while Dedmond, is also a senior at 170, with proven abilities.

Camden's units appear to be solid all over, with experience and depth for

Lions Send 66 Men to Hughes Rites

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Chuck Hughes of the Detroit Lions, who died after collapsing in the game he had known since he was a schoolboy, was buried here Wednesday.

A wreath in the shape of a football helmet rested beside his casket as the entire Detroit team attended the solemn graveside service.

His pretty widow, Sharon, the mother of a 23-month-old son, kept her head bowed as a Roman Catholic priest said the final rites.

A tiny woman, she looked even smaller as Hughes' husky teammates lined up afterward to offer, one by one, their condolences.

The Lions sent 66 men, including all 49 players, to pay their last respects to Hughes. Head coach Joe Schmidt said it was "the least we could do" for the young player and his family.

Hughes died at 28 Sunday of a heart attack due to undetected arterial disease. He collapsed before more than 54,000 spectators as he returned to the huddle during a game against the Chicago Bears.

A wide receiver, he had caught a pass only three plays before he fell to the field.

Hughes became a star when he played for the University of Texas at El Paso in the mid 1960s. He set several school and national records.

Hughes met his wife, a homecoming queen, at UT-El Paso. Relatives said she chose San Antonio for the burial because she plans to live here, even though Hughes worked in El Paso in the off-season. She is a San Antonio native.

BIG GAMES ON TAP—

Conference Clashes Dominate Saturday's Collegiate Skid

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Peerless Prognosticator

Egad, friends, seldom in collegiate pigskin history have there been so many important conference contests scheduled for one day as there are this Saturday!

From the Ivy League to the Pac-8, and including all of the major conferences in between, there are big meetings on tap.

In the Ivy League unbeaten Cornell takes on Columbia and Dartmouth entertains Yale. We see the Big Red whipping Columbia by a 41-16 margin, and Dartmouth repelling Yale, 37-20.

In the Big Ten, we look for Michigan to keep rolling toward a Rose Bowl date by whacking Indiana, 35-10. Ohio State, looking ahead to its Nov. 20 date with mighty Michigan, will vanquish Minnesota at Minneapolis, 25-18, and Purdue will bounce back from its shocking defeat of last week to top Michigan State, 28-21—um-kumph!

In the Southeastern Conference, the high-ranking trio of Alabama, Auburn and Louisiana State will keep their league records unsullied. The Hoople System confidently predicts The Crimson Tide, with brilliant Johnny Musso in the vanguard, will roll over Mississippi State, 33-24, the Auburn Tigers will take the measure of Florida's Gators, 32-20, and the Louisiana State Fighting Tigers have too much of everything for challenging Mississippi and will prevail, 39-22.

In the Pacific Eight, Stanford will keep its Rose Bowl drive alive by edging Oregon State, 36-28.

In the Southwestern, high-scoring Arkansas will trample Texas A&M. It's the Razorbacks 47-18.

In the Mid-America, Toledo will stretch its unbeaten string to 31 straight as they turn back dangerous Miami in a wild affair, 38-31.

Saving the best for the last, we give you—hak-kaff—Colorado to stun the football world as they shuck the Cornhuskers of Nebraska, the nation's No. 1 team. Yas, dear readers, all the Hoople charts indicate the national TV audience is in for real

Willie's Shot Puts Squires in the Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What Willie Sojourner calls his "shot" has put the Virginia Squires on top in the East Division of the American Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-9, 235-pound rookie from Weber State gets off the shot in a high arc. It was particularly effective against another rookie, 7-2 Artis Gilmore from Jacksonville, as the Squires beat Kentucky 110-107 Wednesday night and ousted the Colonels from the top rung in the East.

"The shot just came through for me," said Sojourner modestly. He scored 25 points, high for the Squires, including 12 in a five minute burst in the fourth period as Virginia erased an 86-82 deficit to take a 10-point lead at 101-91.

Pittsburgh whipped Carolina 131-121 and Utah defeated Memphis 104-98 in other ABA games.

"The team made me look good," commented Sojourner. Neil Johnson was second high for the Squires with 24 points and rookie Julius Erving chipped in with 21. Dan Issel of Kentucky was high for the game with 36.

Glen Combs, with 31 points, led the Stars over Memphis for their third straight victory. He and Willie Wise combined to score Utah's last 19 points after an 83-83 tie. Wendell Ladner led Memphis with 21.

George Thompson, with 31 points, sparked a third quarter surge that gave the Condors their victory over Carolina. Jim McDaniels was high for the Cougars with 30.

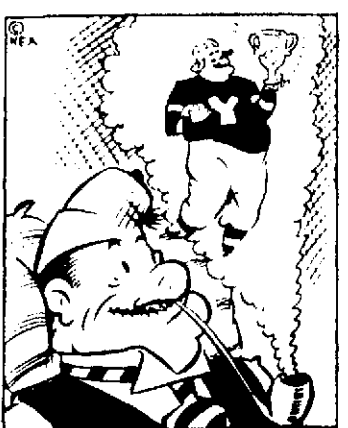

Goals by Bernie Parent of Toronto and Dunc Wilson of Vancouver matched shutouts as the Maple Leafs and Canucks battled to their rare scoreless tie. Wilson made 34 saves. Parent shutout.

The victory boosted the North Stars into second place in the NHL. West.

Dick Martin's two goals led the Sabres over Los Angeles, the fifth straight defeat for the Kings.

Jerry Tubbs Makes Texas Hall of Fame

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP)

Jerry Tubbs, a former linebacker for the Dallas Cowboys and now an assistant with the National Football League team, will be honored Monday Dec. 6 in the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame.

Four other stars of yesterday will be honored.

Tubbs, who earned his highest fame at Breckenridge High School in schoolboy football, was an All-American at Oklahoma.

The famed James (Froggie) Williams of Waco was also an All-American at Rice University and will be honored.

Other stars getting their honors include Bohn Hilliard of Orange, Dick Todd of Crowley and Karl Milstead of Athens.

Hilliard was one of the great runners of early days in the Interscholastic League and he carried it off in style as a star of the University of Texas.

Todd scored 318 points in 1934 at Crowley, later was a star at Texas A&M and also won his fame in pro football.

Milstead, one of the great guards of high school football, was a 225-pounder who starred with Oklahoma in college.

A crowd of more than 400 is expected at the National Guard Armory. The return of Tubbs at Breckenridge is expected to bring this banquet its finest attendance.

There now will be 20 boys on the four banquets that will have been held.

Previously awarded their plaques were Boody Johnson of Waco, Blue Smith of Cleburne, Boyce Magness of Breckenridge, Buster Mills of Ranger, Leo Baldwin of Wichita Falls, Kyle Rote of Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, Bobby Wilson of Corsicana, Honk Irvin of Cisco, Chal Daniel of Longview, Glynn Gregory of Abilene, Roy Lumpkin of Oak Cliff, Stan Mauldin of Amarillo, DeWitt Coulter of Masonic Home, Bob Harrison of Stamford and Bert Marshall of Greenville.

Clark Turns Up, Turns Off the Pistons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Archie Clark finally turned up in a Baltimore Bullets' uniform ... and turned off the Detroit Pistons.

Clark, who went AWOL for two games earlier this month after being obtained from the Philadelphia 76ers, scored 18 points to help the Bullets beat the Detroit Pistons 128-98 in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night.

Clark, playing before the home fans for the first time, also had nine assists in a sparkling, all-around performance.

It was the star guard's second game with Baltimore. He also scored 18 Tuesday night in a losing effort at Milwaukee.

In the NBA's other games Wednesday night, the 76ers tripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 120-106, the Atlanta Hawks turned back the New York Knicks 110-96 and the Boston Celtics bounced the Houston Rockets 108-97.

Clark was fined and suspended by the Bullets after he and backcourt teammate Earl "The Pearl" Monroe disappeared simultaneously. After his trade for two players and a draft choice, Clark asked Bullets' management to renegotiate his contract. When they balked, Clark took off "to think things over."

Passengers of Jet Now in San Juan

By HAROLD J. LIDIN
Associated Press Writer
SAN JUAN (AP) — The passengers and most of the crew of the hijacked American Airlines 747 jumbo jet arrived in San Juan Wednesday night, and one of them who witnessed the hijacking said at no time did he see any action from the three sky marshals or the off-duty FBI man who were aboard.

Marvin W. Schwartz, a freelance photographer from New York, said the first he knew that any such protection was aboard was after the landing at Havana. He said a voice called over the loudspeaker for the federal agents to come forward but no one made a move.

Two American jetliners sent to Havana Wednesday afternoon brought 230 passengers and seven crew members to San Juan. They appeared in good health and lively spirits after their two-day detour through Cuba.

The Federal Aviation Administration said the jumbo jet was expected to arrive in San Juan later today.

Schwartz said the hijack took place about 40 minutes after the plane took off from New York Monday night for Puerto Rico. He said the hijacker was about 25 years old, a feet 4 inches tall and wore daggers with a Puerto Rican flag sewn on one leg.

The photographer said he tried to speak to the man in English and Spanish, but got only the clipped reply, "I don't want to say anything." Enrique Burgos, a San Juan lawyer aboard the flight, said the hijacker was "a Puerto Rican who couldn't find work in New York."

Schwartz said he was about four feet from the stewardess who was taken hostage. He said the hijacker held a fountain pen under a blanket and told the girl he wanted to go to Havana.

An FAA spokesman in Washington said Monday night that three sky marshals and an off-duty FBI agent were aboard the plane. Another passenger, Robert Callahan, a former Navy officer, said Cuban officials handed over a revolver believed to be the hijack weapon and six bullets to an FBI officer a few moments before they left Havana for San Juan.

Children in First Baptist Kindergarten are aware of the importance of helping others. A recent project was creating dried arrangements for the Memorial Hospital gift shop.

On a field trip to the country in the church bus, the children gathered dried field flowers (weeds to you). Later, using tempura paint, they painted the weeds in delicate hues and arranged them in a variety of containers.

The lovely bouquets were then given to Mrs. Harry Shiver, member of the hospital gift shop, for sale. Proceeds from this project is to be contributed to the fund now being raised for the purchase of bed rails and equipment for the intensive care unit—all for the benefit of hospital patients.

The kindergartners reserved one arrangement for Mrs. Gus Haynes, who is ill, to be delivered by Mrs. Henry Haynes, their piano accompanist.

Mrs. Omer Williams is director of First Baptist Kindergarten, Mrs. C. R. Moore, assistant.

Satellite Will Track Icebergs

MOFFETT FIELD, Calif. (AP) — American scientists are preparing an observation satellite that will track icebergs in the North Atlantic, check on crops in India and alert Californians of snowed flooding dangers.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will launch the first Earth Resources Technology Satellite in 1972. NASA's director for the program, John M. McNairy, announced Wednesday.

The satellite will be equipped to gather the sort of high-altitude photographs that have enabled scientists to tackle questions such as the potential for expanded crops and water development in Arizona and the spread of corn blight in the Midwest, McNairy said.

From an orbit 500 miles high, the satellite will transmit 200,000 pictures a week to earth.

British See Amendment May Close Common Market Vote

LONDON (AP) — Political insiders predict House of Commons approval tonight of Britain's entry into the Common Market by less than 50 votes. Such a small margin would mean months of trouble ahead for the necessary enabling legislation, and possibly defeat of some of it.

The House of Lords was to vote first, followed by the vote in Commons, where six days of debate have underlined the splits in both the ruling Conservative party and the opposition Laborites.

Prime Minister Edward Heath was confident of winning majority approval in Commons for the principle and terms of British entry despite the defection of 30 or so of his party members. He counted on the defection of even more Laborites defying their party's judgment that the government has accepted terms of membership which represent a bad bargain for Britain.

Party managers resorted to furious political arm-twisting trying to get recalcitrant members to toe the party line.

"This place is like a torture chamber," one veteran commented.

Heath had hoped for a victory margin of 100 votes in the 630-member House of Commons, and anything less than 50 could turn out to be too frail for his comfort at home or his credibility abroad.

In the year ahead, if the initial vote is favorable, a stack of enabling laws must be passed, and Heath cannot be sure of continuing support from the rebel Laborites.

Under the Parliamentary system, a government is expected to quit if it loses an important Commons vote, and a defeat on one of the major Common Market votes in the next year could bring Heath down.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An effort may be made by county officials to seek a vote in the 1972 general election on a proposed amendment that would revamp the county government article of the state Constitution.

A rough draft of a proposed constitutional amendment already has been prepared that would give the counties greater "home rule" powers, reduce in most instances the size of Quorum Courts but expand their authority, extend four-year terms to county officials and remove the $5,000-a-year constitutional restriction on the officers' salaries.

The Association of Arkansas Counties is scheduled to consider a resolution at its Nov. 18 meeting that would officially sanction the drafting of an amendment. The association would decide later whether to support a petition campaign to refer the proposal to the 1972 ballot.

The County Judges Association already has approved a resolution urging the preparation of such an amendment.

Frank Bizzell, executive director of the counties association, has been working on the initial draft with several county officials.

Bizzell said county government had been able to operate "pretty well" under existing constitutional provisions, but that an amendment would "bring us up to date so we can continue to live with a changing world."

"Government is changing at all levels," he said. "If we don't change and make stronger units of local governments, pretty soon it's all going to be vested in the federal government."

Some of the provisions of the initial draft are patterned after the county government article of the Constitution of 1970, defeated in last year's general election, Bizzell said. He said some was taken from the ideas of a committee appointed by Gov. Dale Bumpers to recommend proposed amendments to submit to this year's General Assembly for its consideration. The legislature voted to submit three amendments in 1972, but none would revise county government.

Bizzell said the broad self-rule provision of the first draft would permit the counties to exercise all authority not specifically denied them by the General Assembly or the state Constitution. The opposite is true now. Counties may wield only those powers specifically granted legislatively or constitutionally.

The much-derided Quorum Courts, described by Bizzell as a "weak link" in county government, would serve as legislative bodies with strengthened powers. They would be restricted to no less than nine and no more than 55 justice of the peace members. Size would be determined by population.

The Quorum Courts would fix the salaries of the county elective officers within limitations determined by the legislature. They would assume the function now performed by the legislature of setting the number and salaries of county employees. They would have authority to fill vacancies in county elective positions, which the governor now does.

They could consolidate or abandon any county elective office with the approval of the voters. They could adopt local rules and ordinances necessary for governing the county.

Under the initial draft, the county judge would remain the

Jackson Hopes to Gain on His Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential hopeful Sen. Henry M. Jackson, hopes to gain substantial ground on his opponents late next month with his formal entry into the White House race and a nationwide television address.

The veteran Washington State lawmaker is planning to announce his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination during the third week of November, probably the 17th or 18th, sources close to the campaign say. He then hopes to go on television that night with a coast-to-coast broadcast, they added.

Jackson's formal declaration will make him the fourth Democrat officially in the race to oppose President Nixon in his almost-certain bid for re-election next year.

Sens. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., and Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., have already announced they are going for nomination.

But Jackson, considered more conservative than all three, is more concerned about the more centrist and much better known contenders, Sens. Edmund S. Muskie, Maine, and Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn.

"Jackson's a hot property and can do better against Nixon than any other Democrat, if we can just make him known to enough voters," to do well in next spring's primary elections, one Jackson strategist said.

chief administrative officer of his county. He would preside over the Quorum Court without a vote, but with the power of veto. The Quorum Court could override a veto by three-fifths vote.

Benjamin Franklin only attended school for two years—between the ages of 8 and 10.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

White Skin Masses

May Be Cholesterol

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—It is three summers since I have had my ovaries removed (uterus 10 years ago). Since then I have developed a white mass above both eyes, between the eyelid and eyebrow. What in your opinion are these? Are they serious and can they be removed? What do you think of these being hereditary? My mother also has spots like these below her eyes.

Dear Reader—To be certain what a person is describing on the skin it is better to be able to see it—that means a visit to the doctor. The best bet from your comments is that you are describing what doctor's call a "xanthelasma." These are deposits of cholesterol under the skin and they are most common around the eyes. The cholesterol is the same substance that is in the blood stream and is of some concern as a cause of heart and vascular disease.

The deposits in the skin usually occur when the amount of cholesterol in the blood is increased and this can indeed occur in families that have a problem in fat or cholesterol metabolism. It can also occur in liver disease of the type that causes increased amounts of cholesterol in the blood, and in diabetes with a rise in blood cholesterol.

The deposit itself is not dangerous. In fact, it is the blood cholesterol level falls and stays down long enough they can even disappear over a period of months. Their greatest importance is as an indicator of a high blood cholesterol or other problems that need attention.

An individual with this problem should have a blood cholesterol examination. If the cholesterol level is high some measures should be considered to lower it in the interests of preventing vascular disease.

Yes, the deposits can be removed surgically and the operation is not difficult or dangerous.

Your story is interesting, not only from the point that your mother has a similar problem but also that it occurred following removal of your normal female organs that would be producing female hormones. This is the stage in life when a woman's cholesterol level is most likely to rise. During the years of normal menstruation, with normal amounts of female hormone, the cholesterol remains low unless there is some problem such as gall bladder disease. This is thought to be the reason women have fewer heart attacks (myocardial infarction) than men before the age of 65. Usually it is a woman has a heart attack before she is 50 she has high blood pressure, kidney disease or diabetes. Afro-American women seem to be much more prone to heart attacks than Anglo-Saxon women. The reason for this difference isn't really known.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The saying "to cut the Gordian knot" refers to solving a perplexing problem with a single bold action. The World Almanac notes that Alexander the Great cut this complex knot of bark with one blow of his sword thereby solving the problem. An oracle declared that whoever cut the knot would become lord of Asia.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — With only a few days remaining before Halloween, many Arkansans are confused as to which night to treat so they won't be tricked.
This year, Halloween falls on Sunday and there has been confusion as to whether trick-or-treaters should make their rounds on Friday, Saturday or Sunday.
A number of churches have recommended that trick-or-treating take place on a night other than Sunday.
Little Rock City Manager John T. Meriwether said that a number of parents have called his office to inquire as to which night had the official sanction of the city government. He said the city would go along with the calendar and recognize Sunday as Halloween. He said Sunday was when he planned to go trick-or-treating.
A spokesman at the Little Rock Police Department said it was his recollection that in past years when Halloween fell on Sunday, most of the trick-or-treating was done on Saturday.
Capt. Bill Younts of the North Little Rock Police Department said as far as he knew children in North Little Rock would have their choice of nights to observe the holiday.
"We plan to be prepared both Saturday and Sunday nights," said Younts. "I'm not really sure which night they'll be out."
Younts also said it was his understanding that in past years when Halloween fell on Sunday it was celebrated on Saturday.
At least one city will observe the occasion on Friday night.
Stuttgart Mayor John Bueker issued a proclamation making Friday night from 6 to 8:30 the time for trick-or-treating in Stuttgart.
Bueker said he chose Friday rather than Saturday because there usually is heavier traffic on Saturday and it would be more dangerous for youngsters to be on the streets.
Bueker also added that a number of people would be attending football games or other weekend functions Saturday.
Pine Bluff Mayor Austin Franks proclaimed Saturday as Halloween in his city.
He said trick-or-treating on Sunday would interfere with church services.
Mayor Neil Stallings of Jonesboro also set Saturday for the Halloween celebration.
He said that Sunday was set aside for worship and Halloween would interfere with church services.
Hot Springs will celebrate the day on Sunday. Mayor Tom Ellsworth said that he hesitated to change the date.
A number of other mayors indicated they were looking to Gov. Dale Bumpers for guidance in the matter, but he has provided none.
Bumpers indicated Tuesday at a news conference that he would not issue a proclamation changing the date of the holiday.

Thinks Most Law Clerks

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court law clerks, as a group, are exuberant, lean to the "left" and unconsciously slant the material they prepare for the justices. This was the recollection in 1967 of nominee William H. Rehnquist, who had worked for the late justice Robert H. Jackson for 18 months.
"Some of the tenets of the 'liberal' point of view which commanded the sympathy of a majority of the clerks I knew," Rehnquist said then in a U.S. News & World Report article, "were: extreme solicitude for the claims of Communists and other criminal defendants, expansion of federal power at the expense of state power, great sympathy toward any government regulation of business."
Then 33, Rehnquist was working as a lawyer in Phoenix. He had been a law clerk to Jackson from January 1952 through July 1953. Now an assistant attorney general, he and attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr. of Richmond, Va., have been nominated by President Nixon to fill two court vacancies.
While a Justice Department press officer said Rehnquist would not discuss his current views, three of his contemporaries were willing to speak of theirs, and they conflicted with Rehnquist's impressions.
Newton Minow, the former Federal Communications Commission chairman, was a clerk to the late Chief Justice Fred Vinson; Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill., clerked for the late Justice Sherman Minton, and Prof. Alexander M. Bickel of Yale worked for the late Justice Felix Frankfurter.
Had they found the clerks, generally, to be exuberant, leftward leaning and unconsciously slanting material?
"Certainly not," said Minow in a telephone interview from Chicago, where he is a lawyer. "I have a very high regard for Bill Rehnquist's intellect and think he is a very competent lawyer, but I don't share that view of what the law clerks thought."
Minow added: "Moreover, I think the whole question of whether law clerks influence justices is greatly exaggerated. We never had that much influence with the chief justice (Vinson). He'd listen to what we said but he'd decide it himself."
Mikva said: "I hope we were exuberant. I certainly don't know of any clerk that slanted the material."
Bickel, who countered Rehnquist's theory in print at the time, said: "I thought it was wrong, an alarmist view, chiefly because I couldn't see how the justices were influenced by their clerks. He didn't have any experience turning the Justice's (Jackson) head and I certainly did not have that experience with Frankfurter, and they both were conservative justices."

Students at Red River Vocational Technical School were given a demonstration address recently on motivation in the world of work by Bob Gannaway, President, Motivation Services, Inc., in Little Rock.
Gannaway stated that the triangle of success stems from a basic knowledge, plus skill, but attitude being very important.
He was well received by staff and students.

More Funds
Sought for Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission revealed Wednesday that it will intensify its campaign to get highway revenue increased.
The commissioners acknowledged that the effort will be a full-fledged promotional drive to sell the public on the idea of footing the bill for expanded road development.
A cornerstone of the effort will be a Highway Department study of road development and projects of what can be accomplished with revenues at existing rates contrasted with development that would be possible with additional funds.
Ward Goodman, department director, said the study is expected to be completed around Jan. 1.
Highway development funds come essentially from three sources: federal funds, gasoline taxes, and bonds.
Earlier this year, the General Assembly approved a bill calling for an election on a $300 million highway construction bond issue, but Gov. Dale Bumpers vetoed the measure.
Members of the commission also have expounded the idea of an increase in the state tax on gasoline to produce more road work money, but Bumpers says he does not want to pursue this course, either.
Commissioner George Kell of Swifton, Bumpers' only appointee to the commission, said he endorsed the idea of a campaign by the commission to promote public support for either a bond issue or a tax increase.
"By God, I think the Arkansas Highway Commission is doing a hell of a job, better than I thought before I came on the commission, and I'm tired of being on the defensive," Kell said.
He said people tell him they need roads and expect miracles. "I tell them I don't have any money," Kell said. "Ask them if they want to pay a little old two-cent gas tax (increase) and they say they're against it."
"People have got to learn that you get what you pay for and if they want better roads they've got to pay for them," he said.
J. C. Patterson of Lavaca, a commission member, indicated frustration over the lack of a bond program for highways.
"They can sell bonds for sewer and water districts, they pass Act 9 bonds (for industries), they approve bonds to build parks," he said. "What are they going to do with those parks — are they going to airlift people to them?"
"They sell bonds to build parks, but not to build highways," Patterson said without identifying who "they" were.
The park bonds were provided for as part of Bumpers' parks development program.

Brezhnev Goes
Sightseeing
in France

By PAUL TREUTHARDT
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev went sightseeing in Marseille today after accusing the United States and Red China of intriguing to sell out the Vietnamese people.
The sortie to the southern port was the Russian leader's only trip outside Paris during his week in France. He was to tour the harbor and see a demonstration of underwater exploration before returning to Paris in the evening.
About 40 right-wingers demonstrated Wednesday night in Marseille against Brezhnev's visit and set fire to some of the Soviet flags that had been put up.
The object of their protest was in Paris at a formal dinner in honor of his host, President Georges Pompidou. Brezhnev used the dinner as a forum for an attack on Washington and Peking, a theme that the Soviet press has sounded frequently.
Without mentioning China by name, he called "American aggression" the main obstacle to peace in Vietnam.
"There is only one way to a solution of the Indochina conflict," he said, "and that is an end to foreign intervention in the internal affairs of that region of the world."
"No solution can be found to this problem by attempts to impose a foreign will on Vietnam by force, or by intrigues carried on back stage behind the backs of the Vietnamese people."
"On this question of principle," he added, "the positions of the U.S.S.R. and France are very close, something we highly appreciate."

National Food Bank Dispute May Emerge

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hot political dispute may emerge on Capitol Hill over a proposed national food bank for building reserves of important grains.

While supporters and opponents of the food bank both say publicly there should be no partisan approach to the issue, they agree privately it could become a political issue.

Some Democrats hope to force the President's hand on an issue of crucial concern to voters in the farm belt. Republican opponents of the proposal call it "an ineffective and wasteful gesture that will bring more mischief than relief both to farmers and to the general public."

Over intense opposition from the Nixon administration, the House Agriculture Committee recently approved the bill 21 to 10.

Although it is not expected to reach the House floor for action until next year, Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, the prime sponsor, said in an interview Tuesday that he will press for the Democratic leadership to attach an emergency tag to the legislation.

Under the legislation, the secretary of agriculture would set up, maintain and dispose of reserves of grain sorghums, corn, barley, oats and wheat. He would buy, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, up to 300 million bushels of wheat and 25 million tons of feed grains—paying not more than the previous five-year average price received by farmers.

The reserve would be offered for sale above average farm prices.

A reserve could be retained on declaration of emergency by the President or a resolution by Congress. The reserves could be used to ease distress at a disaster area. They also could be rotated to prevent stocks from damage or spoilage.

"The reserve would give strength, continuity, and resultant stability to an erratic market swollen by domestic overproduction, and facing difficult foreign trade circumstances, not the least of which has been a U.S. dock strike of mammoth proportions," said the committee majority report to the House.

The Agriculture Department estimated it would cost about $1.45 billion for wheat and grain purchases and $215 million a year for storage based on this year's figures only.

Nine committee Republicans who voted against the bill described it as "adverse to the farmer's interest and expensively futile for the public."
